I have heard back from Paul Bailey and this is his response:

I do not conduct any business other than Duke Energy business on my Duke email account. It is a violation of company policy and the law for me to do such. I will be immediately reporting this request to the Duke Energy Legal Department and Human Resources for their review and any further action.

I have no emails from any of my personal email accounts to provide for this request. Any Town business conducted has been through my former Town email account.
